REFORM IN NEW YORK.

Mayor Strong to Investigate Every Department in the City.

If there is Any Corruption he Aroposes to Find it Out.

New York, Jan. 4. Mayor strong made the following statement after arriving at his office this morning:

"I am going to investigate every department of the city igovernment, from the top to the bottom. If there is any corruption, or if abuses exist anywhere, I propose to find it one. As soon as the commissioners of accounts are ready to go to work, I shall direct them to begin a thorough and systematic investigation of the departments. They have ample power under the law, and I propose to see that the investigations are complete."

The Mayor would not say that he had any puritoular department in mind or had evidence of any corruption anywhere. His purpose was, he said, to ascertain the exact condition of the city government and every department is to

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Proposed New Bankrupt Bill Washington, Jun. 4. Representative Powers, of Vermont, says that since the interview with him, three weeks ago, in which he stated his purpose of preparing a new bankruptcy hill, was published, he has received more than fity letters, principally from commercial bodies, endering his plan, which provides for voludtary and involuntary bankruptcy fils bill will be modelled in the lines of the Torrey bill and will probably contain some of the features of a bill drafted a few years ago by Judge I owell, of Massachusetts.

The proposed Powers bill seems to be generally approved so far as his correspondence shows, in New York and Boston particularly, and in other of the House for several weeks. He is giving it careful consideration and he is the House for several weeks. He is giving it careful consideration and he is the more disposed to delay its introduction till the last practicable moment, in view of the excellent suggestions which reach him from time to time through the mails from persons who feel the need of legislation on this subject.

ROUGHLY HANDLED By a Mob of Newsboys.

By a Mob of Newsboys.

S1. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 4. Business Manager James Norris, of the Post Despatch, was badly beaten by a mob of newsboys last night. January I there was a reduction in the price of the papers. The Post Despatch refused papers to boys who continued the oldker rate for the three afternoon papers and a boycott was declared against the paper. A hooting mob of boys gathered in front of the boycotted office and seriously interfered with its bosiness. Mr. Norris walked out of the office when he noticed a boy stealing papers from a delivert wagon. He gave chase and the boy led lim to an allay. There he was surrounded by a mob of litry, who literally tore off his clothing. He was knocked down, dragged tader a wagon, beaten and kicked. lance Committee of 100 paraded the streets last night. After midnight quiet provailed throughout the city and us far as can be learned no robberies or other crimes were committed. Every block in the city was carefully patrolled and in men found on the street who could not give a good secount of themselves were placed under arrest.

There is a great deal of uncasiness on the part of the criminals now in the county jail. H. J. Palmer, who was convicted of the murder of Charles Phieger three years ago, and was in july waiting the result of the motion for a new trial, at his request was taken to the peuitentiary at San Quintin yesterday, his friends fearing an attack on the jail. The two Strybe brothers, sentenced to thirty years for murder, are trying to be taken out of the city immediately, and many minor criminals are trightened. Great Auxiety Regarding the Effect on the Home Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 The morning paper says: The importers of woolen goods and their agents have allied the Custom House during the past two days on account of the reduced tariff on woolens. The new wool schedule reduces the duty on manufactured wo lens from 30 to 40 per cent, and European manufactures have for several months past been thing up their products in bonded warehouses in this port.

The receipts on Wednesday were the largest in the instory of the Custom House, total duties collected hing $1 029,455, of which about $1,097.556 was for woolens. The number of packages of woolens removed from bonded warehouses was $21,000.

Yesterday the total duties collected were $1049 673, of which it is estimated that $600,000 was for weeden goods. The total number of packages of woolens haven out of bond yesterday was about 12,000

A buil that every Democratic telestance demoniced, (I aught if it) that the Iresident defaired to be a shaim and an outrage, saying in a principle with such a law as this? A buil that every Republican din ounced, and which did not receive the support of a single artifligant much in the botted states of America. A bill which received the approval of nobody except the people who live to be gland, (laughter and applaase) and Irmas, and Germany and Belgium. Datu it that mountain labor and bring forth the most despicable mouse ever even on match? But the people of the republic were watering nam labor and bring forth the most despicable mouse ever seen on earth? But the propile of the republic were walten in for their time, and when the lites of November came, they swept this D moratic party from power as the whirewhal sweeps to dust in the streets. And every mas to-day knows that In two years from now the people of this republic will finish the work and restore to full power once more the Republican part with full, complete confidence and esteem.

to full power once more the Republican part with full, complete confidence and esteem. Now, when that comes and we have the Presidency and both houses, then is our hour of trial. Power always brings with it re-possibility. We as a party cannot escape it. The prople of this republic is an intelligent, honest-minded people, and we as Republicans must see to it that we are wise, if possible, even beyond our generation. We are to be confronted with questions of the gravest importance. Labor troubles, immigration, currency, turiff. We may be confronted in the very next. Congress with this currency question, a question which touches every man, woman and child in America. It is the life blood of a people, id on ot mean to say that we shall have power in this next. Congress. I know that man' people think that we shall have power in this next. Congress. I know that man' people think that we shall have power in the next. Congress. I know that man' people think that we shall have power in the seance of hope not. How can we get it? By a comblication with the Populists. Is there a Republican within the sound of my voice who adules me as a Sonaro to to make any combination with the Populistic party in order to get power in the Senate? (Cries of "No! No") I am glad of it, because I should not obey the will of my constituous. (Lau her and applause.) I desire no power won by such means. We should simply have a seeming power, with the responsibility, and no real power to carry hoto the effect of law the politics of the purty, because every time the Populists would vote against us.

I prefer lufnitely that the Democratic party shall retain the organization and the power in that Senate through the against us.

I prefer infinitely that the Democratic party shell retain the organization and the power in that Senate through the next two years. I confess I am not, and never was fond of the Democratic party, but I admire it when contrasted with the Populatio party. (Laughter and applause.) But nevertheless the currency question may confront us at this very next Congress. I have no idea that the President of the United States will be able to force through the two Houses of Congress one of his currency bills. One is liable to come in any day, a revision of the other. Mr. Carlisic seems to be plenty with currency bills the does not retain his fondibess for one more than a couple of days. He will not be able to force that carrency bill through the Senate; there is not time for him to do it. He may force it through the House. If he does not, then it is our legacy whether or not we have power, because we have here F. H. C. REYNOLDS, - BANKER, power in the House, and with honest bemocrats we shall have together the power in the Senate.

Now what is our duty? I do not pretend to have any special wisdom in financial matters, and sometimes I think that no one else has, much. (Laughter.) Since I have been in Congress I have seen almost every financial piophecy come to grief. The whole refunding process has been gone through with, and every time the proposition was mice to refund at a lower rate of interest, the wise and enlightened financiers informed as that you could not loat your bonds at par—it would bring fisaster upon the country, and yet we refunded over and our bonds never went bulow par. We fiduled bonds at a lower rate of interest than at that time any country ever had floated that time any country ever had floated them at par When we undertook to re-

Now that Congress is once more in that time any country ever had floated them at par. When we undertook to resume specie payment, the wise men all over the country laterized as that it could not be done—that the treasury would be swept clean of its gold in a single day. But we resumed, and nobody want it gold and we never had the slightest trouble about gold in the treasury until within the last two years. And now it seems to be impossible to keep it there. It has run as in debt a bundred millions of dollars already in order to it keep there—to will run us in debt, providing the bonds can be sold, fifty millions more E AMERICAN TOUNED CONFINY SUCCESSOR ABSOLUTELY PURE THE OLD RELIABLE SWEET CAPORAL CICARETTE

Has stood the Test of Time order to it keep there it will run us in debt, providing the bounds can be sold, fifty millions more Again we passed the Bland salver bill, so called, and the wise fluancial men of the country suid that silver would go up ut once it went down promptly. And then we passed the Sterman act, a bill which actually provided for the purchase of all silver produced in the United States, and we not only prophesied, but all of us know that salver would go up towards gold in the twinkling of an eye, and it went down (taughter) so that I do not know who is wise about financial matters. But I think that the Republican party can plant themselves on one plank, that arever, under any circumstances, any condition or any stress will we consent to any legislation, wintever, which shall in our opinion tend to make the currency in the republic the laferior of any other one. Applance.

In discussing tarlff, he said there is an attempt being made as there was in 1885 to weaken the protective pointy. The McKninky bill is a good illustration of Republican policy of protection. It may not debauges. It does not represent any one man's ideas upon rariff. He reference to ex Speaker Red & future candidacy was received with a burst of applause. Meanwhile Mr Cockrell will probably refrain from reporting the urgent deficiency bill in the hope that some good may come from the discussion of the situation at this meeting.

Appropriation for More War Ships Suggested.
So far as can be learned, the members of the House Committee on Naval Affairs are disposed to incorporate an appropriation for two and possibly three new battle ships and twelve torpedo boats in the naval appropriation bill, which will be reported to the House within a few days. The belief that the treasury receipts will be considerably in excess of the expenditures before the close of the iscal year, the certainty that not more than fifteen per cent of the amount appropriated will be needed for fifteen months from the present time, and the necessity for continuing the work of creating a more powerful navy, are the considerations which lead the members to think that the country will approve an Suggested.

Such of the members of the committee se were spoken with regarding the matter to-day, expressed the belief that the economists of the House would ilercely antagonize the appropriation, but the expectation is that it will be permitted to remain.

VALUABLE WOODS

Many of the Fluest Kinds In Existen Plentiful, but Almost Unknown. Many of the finest woods in existence are yet unknown or only slightly known to the manufacturers of wood in the civilized world. The woods of Central and South America are perhaps the most remarkable as well as the best known. In the yet untouched forests of this continent are many woods far finer than any of those now in use. These woods range from pure white to jet black in color, and many of them are most beautifully marked and voined. Some of them are so hard that they turn the edges of axes, chaosis and other tools, while the band saw cuts them only slowly.

In the Columbian exposition there were many displays of little known woods, and the finest of them were those from Argentine Republic, Brazil and other South American countries. Some of these southern woods yielded to the teeth of the band saw not the ordinary sawdust, but fine powder, fine as the finest flour, so hard woré the woods. Some of them burned but slowly. Othors possess qualities that keep them free from insects. Some of them seem to be practically indestructible by air and water.

All along the eastern slopes of the Andes, up to the snow line on those great elevations, throughout all the great river valleys and in some of the wide areas of level country in South America are great forests of fine woods whole arens of layer country in count America are great forests of fine woods that are specially fit for the finest cabinet and furniture work, and calso for shipbundlang carpentry and other industrial arts. In which wood is the raw material. These great forests are now an unknown quantity in the commercial world, but they will come rapidly into the knowledge of men and into indus-trial use when once the railroad has reached them.

Before many years, it is safe to pro-dict, the South American and Central American republics will be threaded by railroads, and then these wonderful railroads, and then those wonderfu woods will be drawn upon to supply the demand for new and fine woods in all civilized countries.—Lumber World.

The community was again shocked yesterday at another sudden death, that of Hon. Lysander Strickland, and he will be deeply and shocrofy mourned by a large number of friends all over the State. He was one of Bangor's most prohinent and highly respected citizens, being greatly esteemed for many admirable qualities of mind and heart. He had been subject for some time to occasional slight filnesses brought on by indigestion and was sick at his residence the latter part of December. He came out of doors Monday and went to Augustia on Tuesday in the interests of his candidacy for the State Assessorship, returning home on the Wednerday morning Pullman train. He was not well at the time that he made the journey

Currency Bill.

Washington, Jan. 4. There was a silm attradance of Senators when the Senate was cattled to order.

The resolution heretofore introduced by Mr Lodge, of Massachusetts, calling on the Secretary of the Navy to inform the Senate why all ships of war have been withdrawn from the Hawaiian y lalands, was laid before the Senate and Mr. Lodge addressed the Senate and Correspondence of Admiral Walker in regard to Hawaiia. Ay notive in so doing was because I believed the opinions and observations of a filstinguished and able naval officer who is necessarily outside of all politics would be of great value to us in understanding the condition of affairs and therein reaching a proper knowledge of our reintions with those islands.

"Admiral Walker's papers were, as I had anticlpated, most valuable on these points. They showed that to a disinterested observer actuated by no motive." The bank obeck tax on beer can be collected at no extra cost by the present force of internal revenue officers. If the proposition to the income tax which has a partial encouragement and supportant the urgent deficiency bill making an appropriation to carry the law into effect, if this proposition can be defeated this will, of course, kill the income tax by the Congressional method known as "starving it to death."

That the total revenue of the government may not be reduced from Secretary Carlisle's estimate of the troasury's needs it is proposed to raise a revenue in less than the proposition to the income tax with those lessand.

The individual Status depend on their National Guard to preserve the public peace and insure to every inhabitant the freedom to exercise all his rights as a citizen. These troops are made more effective by means of this military instruction. The best officers are graduates of institutions where they have had allitary instruction, and they serve to raise the standard of the whole body. This is the testinony of nearly all the Adjutant Generals of the different States. The United States Corps of Cadets at the United States Military Academy forms a separate and distinct part of the United States Army, liable to be called upon for active service in case of necessity, the graduates being required to serve the government for four yeals longer if their services are desired. Why could not this same plan be most profitably instituted in the several States from the States where the various colleges are located, and are aided by the State in obtaining their education. Some service might well be asked in return for this aid.
